U.S. DECLARES WAR TODAY

BRAZIL MAY BE NEXT TO ENTER WORLD STRUGGLE

That She Is On Point of Entering Is Belief Expressed Today

SINKING OF STEAMER LEADS TO THE RUMOR

Several of Her Citizens Perish And Situation Becomes Most Grave

Rio De Janiero, April 6—Brazil may declare war on Germany.

Official announcement today of the sinking of the Brazilian steamer Parana, killing three Brazilian citizens, caused the most intense anti-German feeling here.

The situation is most grave; a declaration of war against Germany may be necessary," declared Foreign Secretary Muller today.

It was generally expected today that Brazil would seize all German ships interned in her harbors and immediately proclaim hostilities against Germany. There was intense anxiety today as to how the situation would be affected by the presence of 500,000 Germans in the Brazilian state of Rio Grande.

Information indicated that Bolivia would probably follow Brazil in declaring war on Germany.

FRENCH FORCES MAKING GAINS

Paris, April 6—French forces made further gains north of Landrecourt, both of the Oise and also reoccupied some of the trenches northwest of Craonne, which were taken in the first rush of the German attack there yesterday according to today's official announcement.

Artillery firing continued active during the night between the Somme and the Oise, the statement continued. North of LaFolie Four the Germans have attacked after a violent period of artillery preparation but were repulsed by a curtain of the French fire. There were numerous patrol encounters in this same region.

BRITISH STEAMER IS NOT WARNED

Washington, April 6—The unwarned sinking of the British steamer Canada, carrying an American fireman, Samuel Jones, of San Francisco, was reported to the state department today by the Hull, England, consul. Lives were lost.

Awaiting further details of the torpedoing of the Leyland liner Canadian Signal Frost at Queenstown said the marine action "was in flagrant contempt of the safety of the boats in the rigging of the ship."

B. SPENCER, Agent and one of the directors of the Hastings Cyclone Insurance Company, has returned from a winter vacation in the south. He has purchased the property at No. 204 East Cross St., and has his home and office there. He will have a telephone installed there in a few days. The number of which can be obtained from the information Operator—adv.

PICKED GERMAN TROOPS TRY TO TOSS ALLIES OFF

London, April 6—Striving desperately to relieve the tremendous pincer-like grip around St. Quentin exerted by British and French forces picked German troops were hurled against the French line northwest of Rheims last night and today in one of the most powerful "diversions" attempted in months. The attack was delivered in force. Its object was plainly to force hurrying of reserves from other portions of the line to aid of the attacked French troops, thus relieving the Allied pressure against the German front around St. Quentin.

Front dispatches today declared the fighting in the Rheims sector was proceeding with unabated violence. The French were forced to relinquish a few trenches here, but for the most part succeeded in recapturing these points which fell in the first fury of the German attack. The Teutons assault was attempted over a front of more than a mile.

Meanwhile dispatches indicated systematic progress in the encircling movement around St. Quentin by both the French and British forces.

NO NEED FOR ALARM HERE

HEALTH OFFICER SAYS CHILDREN WON'T BE ENDANGERED BY ERECTION OF PEST HOUSE

Dr. Westfall is out with a reassuring word for the residents whose signatures appear upon a petition which is being circulated protesting against the erection of a detention house for contagious cases on Cross street. The reason given for the parental objection is that children will be endangered in passing the building. Dr. Westfall states that the detention house and the city schools are two of the safest places in the city in time of contagion, because of the precautions observed there, and he advises keeping the children out of the street cars and motion picture shows if real concern be felt for their safety.

The erection of the detention house is not proposed as a remedy for an immediate need, but as a preparedness measure for the future, the health officer explained.

ENGLAND WOULD FORCE DROPPING WHEAT EMBARGO

(By Charles P. Stewart)

Buenos Aires, April 6—England has put powerful pressure on Argentine to force raising of the wheat embargo.

It was learned on unimpeachable authority today that the British government has threatened an embargo on coal as a reprisal against the grain ban announced by Argentine.

The greatest alarm was manifest among Argentine officials today. They were hurriedly making another inventory of the republic's food supplies. It was known however that without British coal all railroads all shipping and all industries in the nation would be paralyzed. Argentine could only survive with the greatest privation.

The situation has so far been concealed from the Argentine public officials not desiring to reveal the government under coercion. Officially it was known also that the government was deeply concerned over the influence behind the disaffection of Governor Ugarte, of Buenos Aires province to President Irigoyens authority. It was predicted that Ugarte's removal from the governorship would be the government's next step, provided it was ascertained such removal could be accomplished without bloodshed.

There has been a long feud between the state and the government and Ugarte and Irigoyen.

JUSTIFY THE SHIP SEIZURE

Washington, April 6—Seizure of German ships and internment of their crews does not come under the old Prussian treaties between the United States and Germany, the state department held today. On the contrary, the government view is that in interning the crews, the United States is interning men engaged in German government service, not German merchants, such as the treaties hold shall be exempt.

As for the ships themselves, as German government property, they are not exempt under the treaties, the department held.

That the government will pay for their use after the war is likely. They are being confiscated or requisitioned for the period of the war. If Germany torpedoes any of them enroute abroad in American service that will be her own lookout as she will have no claim for payment.

The treaties are still in force, though recently the state department suggested they might be abrogated.

It is taken for granted today that the government will begin at once to repair the damage done to the ships by their German crews.

PRES. WILSON READY FOR WAR

(By Robert J. Bender)

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 4—On the verge of war, at 60 years of age, President Wilson is in perfect physical trim.

To the casual observer he looks about 45 years old and he acts that part.

Ex ercise and recreation in the open air and sunshine consistently employed particularly in times of greatest stress are largely responsible.

SEIZE GERMAN SHIPS LYING IN LOCAL PORTS

New York, April 6—United States armed forces seized all German ships in American ports today.

It was America's first act of war.

In ports on every coast of the United States proper, and in island possessions, marines or bluejackets went aboard the enemy ships early today, made members of the German crews prisoners and took possession of the vessels in the name of the United States.

At Hoboken, N. J., alone, 18 vessels, including the giant Vaterland, were taken over. In all 27 ships were seized in New York waters.

The total number of German ships in American waters, which were anchored is 91. They represent a total gross tonnage of 584,896.

From Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, Jacksonville, Wilmington, (N. C.), San Francisco and other ports came reports during the morning of the seizure of ships. No trouble was reported. In every instance, marines or bluejackets, were armed waiting and ready for the signal to take over the ships. This signal was word that the house had passed the war resolution.

In New York Harbor a long, gray, war-painted destroyer waited anxiously on the water, just off the bow of the giant Vaterland. Her guns were trained on the enemy sea monster.

The busy launch of Collector of the Port Malone churned the waters of the bay as he hastened on his early morning enterprise. All night long he had waited for the order to seize the ships. His deputies—by scores—were on the docks and piers in Hoboken, New York and at Staten Island. When the word came, the waiting men hurried aboard. The German sailors were ordered to pack their belongings and were hurried away to Ellis Island.

The same scenes were enacted at other ports.

In all cases the enemy sailors were sent to the immigration stations, some being released on parole.

At New London the steamer Willehad, which has served as mother ship to the merchant submarine Deutschland, was seized.

The German vessels are now subject to use by the United States. Whether any of them can be put in commission at an early date, however, is problematical.

In most cases, the machinery of the ships has been wrecked. The crews were under instructions to smash the cylinder heads and otherwise cripple the ships immediately diplomatic relations between the two countries were broken, according to earlier reports.

New Orleans, La., April 6—Federal authorities today seized the interned German steamer Hvasian and Arabia. The crews were taken to the immigration station.

Hoboken, N. J., April 6—Twenty-seven ships in New York have been seized by the government, Collector

WAR BILL SIGNED AT 1:13 THIS AFTERNOON

Washington, April 6, 2:04 p. m.—President Wilson signed the war resolution at one thirteen this afternoon, formally declaring war against Germany. There were no false moves between the passage of the resolution by the House at an early hour this morning and the president's signature, which was affixed at one thirteen o'clock, (Eastern time). Almost coincident with Wilson's action, wireless messages flashed in all directions, ordering immediate seizure of all German vessels interned in American ports, the first actual war step taken by this government. Guard units throughout the country are held awaiting call, and Congress is confronted with the problem of devising a means for immediate army increase to war size.

Washington, April 6.—America is at war.

Amidst the most dramatic scenes ever witnessed in congress the house early today passed the resolution which formally declared Germany as an enemy and launched the United States in the fight for the democracy of the world.

The vote on the resolution was 373 to 50.

For the first time in history a woman voted on the question of war. With a sob and a protest of her love of country, she voted "no."

The only things left now to make the state of war formal are the signatures of Vice-president Marshall and President Wilson to the war resolution. Marshall will sign the document at noon in the senate. When it will be sent by messenger to the White House—or Wilson, himself, will go to the capitol to seal with his name the tremendous step taken by this government.

The first blows will be struck at once against Germany. Secret orders covering precautionary steps within and without the nation will be flashed from Washington.

What these orders are the administration is concealing because of their military nature.

The nation is now ready for money and for its men.

Two million youths will be wanted within the next two years.

Billions of dollars will be required. Measures covering both these great needs are drafted and ready for congressional action.

The first great war budget, asking over three and a half billions, is up for discussion today in the house appropriations committee.

The military committees have been informed of the administration's selective conscription bill to raise great armies.

The closing hours of congress debate on the war measure were thrilling with patriotism, though, however, there ran a chord of pacism.

Two hundred and twenty-five members had addressed the house.

Peace advocate had met war advocate man for man until midnight. Then the tension almost reached the snapping point. Perspiration dripped from members' foreheads. Suddenly a motion was made to reach an agreement by 12 or let the matter go over until Saturday or Monday. It never reached a vote.

As Good Friday was ushered in the house seemed as far from a vote as at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Cries of "Vote," "Vote" arose from all sides. Debate had been limited to five minutes but scores of those who wished to speak kept piling on the list.

At 1:30 a. m., Britten, Illinois, introduced an amendment to the bill that would have prohibited use of American troops in Europe. Debate, which had been repeated two and three times during the day, switched to this.

At 2:05 o'clock, after speeches had been repeated and repeated, the break came when Representative McGee, New York, announced: "The house is ready for a vote. I shall ask that my remarks be extended in the record, instead of reading them and thereby save time."

A dozen followed suit. Majority Leader Kitchin asked that it lay over until Saturday. The motion was defeated. Chairman Flood of the foreign affairs committee asked that the committee of the whole go into a house session and take up the question.

The house then immediately proceeded to take up Britten's amendment. Britten demanded the "ayes" and "noes." He grinned as groans arose from all over the chamber. It takes 15 minutes to an hour to call the house roll.

Speaker Clark put the question as to "ayes" and "noes" to a vote and it was overwhelmingly defeated, viva voce. A moment later the Britten amendment was defeated likewise.

Not satisfied, Britten moved that the resolution be referred back to the foreign affairs committee and reported out with an amendment identical to the one that just failed. Once more

WAR ACTIVITY IN NEW YORK

This comment on the ground was delayed in getting thru.—Ed.

New York and the east have long looked with [illegible] at the indifference of the [illegible] the question of preparedness. Activity of that on the importance of bestirring ourselves now is very pronounced here as compared to any other section we have seen. The flags are out in great numbers, so much so as to [illegible] some [illegible]. And they have been for a month [illegible].

The Union [illegible] meeting a few days ago with Charles Evans Hughes presiding, and [illegible] patriotism applauded to the echo as it was presented by [illegible], [illegible]. The other [illegible] and Mayor Mitchell; the Carnegie Music Hall meeting and its ringing resolutions; the celebrations in mass meetings over Russian [illegible]; the [illegible] concert for the American League keep the question on tongue's end.

We took the "Rocker" to the Statue of Liberty presented to us by France. The island is the headquarters for the signal corps. Stores were being laid in, in quantity for probable early need. [illegible] are scrutinized as they come off the boat. Boats are passing, loaded with ammunition going out to be loaded on the navy vessels. The Monterey lay just off the Bedlo Island dock, being armed for defense against submarines.

We took the Hoboken Ferry across the Hudson to see the interned German ships. There are about 16 belonging to the Hamburg-American and the North German Lloyd lines. "The Vaterland" is the largest, with a crew of [illegible], [illegible] is not permitted the public [illegible] and American Soldiers are watching them closely. The officer in charge of the dock said "the first armed merchantman was due in the danger zone today and I think she'll be sunk and then the thing will be on."

[illegible] is said to have been written in Lloyds of London during the past few days on the big office buildings and other exosed property in the down town district. Anyone who has seen "the fall of the Republic" and then taken a look at this district would call it a pippin ripe for the picking by a first class power with in range of lower Manhattan.

The Anti-Russian pro-German element seems to have dissolved under the republican uprising in Russa so that the talk is that the sentiment now, since the Zimmerman note exposure, is practically unanimous for taking a firm stand and going the limit if necessary.

GERMAN AND HUMAN NATURE DIFFERENT

SO SAYS BONAR LAW IN DISCUSSING SITUATION WITH UNITED PRESS CORRESPONDENT

London, April 4.—"It is impossible for German nature to understand human nature" said Chancellor of the British Exchequer Bonar Law, when interviewed by a representaive of the United Press Associations this week.

Despite the naturally high importance which he attaches to the financial side of the war, the chancellor is not convinced that it necessarily is the controlling factor.

"The Allies, it goes without saying, have greater financial resources than the Central Powers," he observed. "But as long as a country has credit it can fight. Germany's resources, financial and otherwise, are practically confined within her own borders. But there is no evidence that Germany has lost or is likely soon to lose her credit with her own people. Her other resources may give way sooner. Austria is less able to support herself alone, but even Austria is a country of great productivity. Turkey and Bulgaria, of course are being supported by the other two.

"If it becomes solely a question of staying power—financial and industrial staying power—the Allies' victory is certain. We have the resources."

"Has the effect of America's possible entry been considered?"

"America's resources are greater than any of the allies, but it is outside the province of a member of the British government to discuss America's probable action. We have steadily refrained from doing so. But if it becomes a question of staying power, it is obvious American resources could make all the difference in the world."

OFFICERS OF LIBRARY ASSN. FILE THEIR ANNUAL REPORTS

Following are reports of various officers for the past year:

Recording Secretary's Report.

April 3, 1917.

Madame President and Ladies of the Ypsilanti Ladies' Library Association:

Today, besides holding our annual meeting, we are celebrating the forty-eighth birthday of our association. The past year has been a successful and uneventful one. We have now 28 life and 27 yearly members of our association.

Ten regular meetings of the executive board have been held with a large proportion of the members present at each meeting.

Our Librarian's report will show that a great number of new books have been purchased and are now in circulation.

Our treasurer will tell us what a goodly sum has been solicited and raised among our friends, without a cent of expense to the city and paid upon our lot. Newspapers and old magazines have been collected and sold bringing in quite a sum of money.

The necessary repairs and running expenses have been kept up.

Shelving has been placed along the entire north wall of the south room downstairs at an expense of $63.00. Screen doors and window shades have been put in good condition. The sign on the front of the building has been relettered. The small brick building on the grounds has been taken down and the retaining wall repaired and a new pump purchased for the cistern.

In spite of the high price of coal, we have paid less this winter for heating our building than ever before.

Almost as soon as the fires were allowed to go out last spring we began discussing the fuel question for the following winter.

In view of the high prices for hard and soft coal, we decided to try the experiment of using coke for fall and spring. Coke was purchased from the city to the amount of $50.00. When that was gone there was not only no hard coal, but no more coke to be had. So we have had to purchase what fuel and when and where it could be obtained. And with great care, it has actually cost us less than last year.

In May, 1916, a box of books was sent to Springport to be rebound, as is our custom. After doing the work, the firm started the box back to Ypsilanti by the N. Y. Central line, as usual, and that was the last heard from them. Various members of the board interviewed the local agent, and our librarian opened a voluminous correspondence with the powers that be of the N. Y. Central. They finally offered us $50.00 to settle the matter. As the books and rebinding were worth $116, we could not see our way to accepting their offer. At length it was voted to put the matter into the efficient hands of our president and I am happy to state that not only the cost of the books, but of the binding as well, has been recovered.

The board granted permission to the Ypsilanti Federation of Women's clubs to hold its monthly executive board meetings in the library free of charge, and the headquarters of the Red Cross work have been established in our building.

Plans are on foot this spring to clear up and beautify our grounds, planting shrubbery and vines along the retaining wall, and otherwise making the place attractive.

Respectfully submitted,
HELEN F. CLEARY,
Recording Secretary.

Report of Librarian

Madam President and Ladies of the Library Association:

I herewith present to you the Librarian's report of the Ladies' Library for the year ending March 31, 1917.

The circulation of books during the year was 22,876 volumes, about 4,600 less than that of the preceding year; but while the number in circulation outside of the library is not as great as it was the previous year the use of reference books in the reading room by ladies of the clubs, students and others shows a very decided increase. We are unable to give the number of books thus used, as there is no regular attendant in the reading room and with the use of the Reader's Guide many of our patrons are able to find and use the needed books without much aid from the librarians.

In order to relieve the crowded condition of shelves in the distributing rooms of the library it was found necessary to add some new shelves for the purpose of disposing of such books as are not in frequent use, duplicates of others that have been given to the library, unbound magazines, and volumes too large to be placed on other shelves. These shelves were placed in the south room on the first floor—the books arranged on them, and the space they formerly occupied is ready for new accessions.

Good Book Week beginning Dec. 4, was celebrated by the library and proved a pleasant and profitable change in the year's work. This celebration was to be a national affair and as such had been thoroughly advertised in many ways and each library was interested in making it as successful as possible. The purpose of the event was to bring before the public the best books on our shelves for the examination and use of our citizens, especially those intended for the use of children, and to arouse in them an interest in good literature. Therefore the best books of our December list, and many older ones that had stood the test of time, were placed on tables and kept on exhibition during the entire week. These books were supplemented by some beautiful volumes, loaned to us by Miss Walton of the Normal College library, and the two attractive posters hung on the walls were from the same generous hand. Many Christmas catalogues, and some excellent lists of books for children were sent to the library, and given to visitors or sent to citizens for examination before making Christmas purchases.

Gifts

As usual friends of the library have been generous in gifts: 164 books, 29 subscriptions to periodicals and papers and many bound and unbound magazines, pamphlets are among the donations.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMON COUNCIL

Ypsilanti, Mich., April 3, 1917.
To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council of the City of Ypsilanti.

Gentlemen:—Respecting the account of former treasurer, William N. Lister, referred to this department, would say that I find the facts as follows:

Mr. Lister turned in money in excess of the amount called for by the tax rolls, including excess of $248.63.

The amount called for in the receipts from the County Treasurer, for which check was sent by order of the last meeting of the council, $156.19

This would still leave a balance in the City Treasury over and above the amount stated in the warrants and excess provided for in the warrant of $92.44.

Until such time as this excess money becomes depleted by reason of further payments to the County Treasurer I do not see the advisability of holding the Treasurer.

The responsibility, so far as my information goes, for these errors is divided between Mr. Lister and the City Marshall, Mr. Charles Cain.

Errors of Mr. Lister were	$ 24.90
Errors of Mr. Cain	90.75
County Treas. costs on former	11.22
County Treas. costs on latter	29.32
Total	$156.19

It is plain the the city has lost in this manner, $40.54. On the other hand the city still has more money in the treasury from the taxes collected by Mr. Lister than his warrants called for. If he had simply paid over the amount called for by the warrants and kept the balance, he could have settled the amount claimed by the County Treasurer, and still have $92.44 on hand, together with the use of the entire amount from the date of collection. I will await your further commands in this matter.

Respectfully submitted,
FLOYD E. DAGGETT,
City Attorney

By Ald. Paton—
Resolved, That the report of the City Attorney be accepted and adopted.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Many Ypsilanti People Have a Weak Part and Too Often it's The Back

Many people have a weak spot.
Too often it's a bad back.
Twinges follow every sudden twist.
Dull aching keeps up day and night.
Backache is often from weak kidneys.
In such case a kidney medicine is needed.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.
For backache and urinary ills.
Ypsilanti people recommend the remedy.
William Mallion, of Mallion & Horn Bicycle Shop, 502 S. Washington St., Ypsilanti, says: "Some years ago, my back was weak and lame, causing quite a bit of annoyance. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me and were of great benefit. I am only too glad to recommend them to anyone troubled with weak kidneys."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Mallion had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Use "Gets-It," Lift Corn Right Off

Shrivels, Loosens—and It's Gone!

"Just like taking the lid off—that's how easy you can lift a corn off your toe after it has been treated with the wonderful discovery 'Gets-It.'" Hunt the wide world over and you'll find nothing so magic, simple and easy as "Gets-It." You folks who have wrapped your toes in bandages to look like bundles, who have used salves that turned your toes raw and sore, and used plasters that would shift from their place and never "get" the corn, and who have dug and picked at your corns with knives and scissors and perhaps made them bleed—just quit these old and painful ways and try "Gets-It" just once. You put 2 or 3 drops on, and it dries at once. There's nothing to stick. You can put your shoe and stocking right on again. The pain is all gone. Then the corn dies a painless, shriveling death. It loosens from your toe, and off it comes. "Gets-It" is the biggest selling corn remedy in the world today. There's none other as good.

Sold in Ypsilanti by R. H. Killian and Frank Smith.

They were taken to the United States customs house and then allowed to go back on the liner. The ship is under heavy guard.

At Hoboken, N. J., where the huge Vaterland and several other ships are lying on the New York side of the Hudson river and at South Brooklyn piers, marines appeared immediately after the house had passed the war resolution. They began the removal of sailors preliminary to taking actual charge of the vessels. Officials refused to discuss what was being done, but it was believed the men were to be taken to Ellis Island. A company of New Jersey infantry went on guard at the Hoboken piers.

At Boston early today five German vessels were taken over by a company of marines aboard the coast guard cutter Gresham.

Extraordinary precautions are being taken all over the country to avoid possible trouble from crews of ships which have been held since the beginning of the European war. Another motion for reference back to committee was killed also.

The pacifists, realizing themselves defeated, died hard and at 2:37, Rep. Sloan, Nebraska, offered another similar amendment which failed in the same manner.

Promptly at 2:45 o'clock the house started to vote on the resolution. At 3:08 the roll had been called in record time and the president's state of war resolution had passed both branches of congress.
